The Master is established by the Università degli Studi di Scienze Gastronomiche, Piazza Vittorio Emanuele 9, Pollenzo-Bra (Cuneo), hereinafter referred to as "UNISG".

The Master course lasts 12 months, starts on September 17, 2014 and comprises a total of 90 CFU credits.

Section 2

Admission requirements

The maximum number of students that may be enrolled is 25. The Board of Directors may decide to exceed the above-stated limit and enroll more students that meet the selection criteria, however the aforesaid limit may not be exceeded by more than 16%. The minimum number of students that may be enrolled is 15. Should this lower limit not be reached, UNISG has the right to not undertake the Master. Students who enrolled in the Master shall be informed of such a decision by email or registered mail. Within 7 days of the aforesaid decision UNISG shall refund enrolled students any fees they have already paid without any surcharge and/or additional expense due to accrued interests and/or currency appreciation.

The Master is open to all graduated students in possession of any type of undergraduate, bachelor or other post-secondary degree, comprising a minimum of the equivalent of three years of full-time study. Applications from students in their final year of studies will be considered only if their degree will be obtained no less than one week before the Master begins. It is forbidden to enrol in the Master and at the same time in any other first or second level degree programs. Final-year students may start the Master program as auditors if they are still to obtain their undergraduate degree, provided the exam session belongs to the previous academic year.

- 5000 credits on your lunch cards to be used at UNISG Academic Tables

In the event that a student chooses to withdraw from the Master after having accepted entry into the program, the student will be eligible for a partial reimbursement of the university fees only if such withdrawal is made within the first thirty or ninety days after the start date of the Master, as indicated in the schedule outlined below:

Days within which the student withdraws from the Master	% of deposit and 1 st installment of university fees to be reimbursed	% of 2 nd installment of university fees to be reimbursed, if already paid
30 days after the start date of the Master	30%	80%
90 days after the start date of the Master	0%	80%

As per Art. 5, paragraph 4, of this announcement, students who have paid the deposit and first installment of the university fees, and who then decide to withdraw from the program, will be required to pay 20% of the second installment if they withdraw within 90 days of the start of the Master, and 100% of the second installment if they withdraw after 90 days of the start of the Master.

Finally, in the event that a student has completed the application process and has made the initial deposit of university fees, as per section 5, and then decides not to accept entry into the program, that student will be eligible for a reimbursement of 50% of the deposit.

Section 5

Selection and admission of applicants

Selection and subsequent admission of candidates to the Master is carried out, with unappealable judgment by UNISG. Selection and admission are based on the evaluation of the applicant's dossier. Each applicant will be given a score according to his/her dossier, applicants will be ranked according to their scores; the top X applicants (where X is the maximum number of students) will be admitted. In the event that two candidates have the same score, a qualitative judgement will be made by UNISG.

The list of students admitted to the Master will be published on the UNISG website not earlier than the date noted in Section 3. Admitted students must pay the deposit of the university fees within 8 days of the online notification of admission and send a payment confirmation via email. Possible extensions of payment deadlines may be communicated by email. Students who do not pay the deposit of the university fees within the aforementioned deadline will be regarded as having forgone their admission to the Master and their place may be given to a student from the waiting list.

The deposit shall, moreover, constitute acceptance by the admitted candidate of the general conditions outline herein, and of the resulting obligation on the part of the student to pay the entire university fees, with the understanding of the student's right to withdraw under the terms defined in the previous article. Failure to pay any of the subsequent installments grants UNISG the right to remove the insolvent student from the Master and to cease providing him/her with any related services. Such a student is nonetheless required to pay the whole university fees. In consideration of the fact that the costs and charges borne by UNISG to undertake the Master are in the majority fixed and non-recoverable (a fact the admitted students acknowledge), any refund of all or part of the university fees is not possible, with the exception of the terms and conditions defined in section 4.

Section 6

Attendance

Attendance in classes and activities is compulsory. Individual student absences may not exceed 20% of the total number of Master activity hours. Any absence exceeding this limit, if due to illness or otherwise serious reasons (backed by adequate evidence), shall be taken into account by the Management Office when evaluations are made for granting Master's Degree.

Section 7

Certifications

Admitted students who complete the entire program and pass all the exams and tests will receive a First Level Master's Degree in "Food Culture and Communications: High-Quality Products" from UNISG (non-graduated students will receive the Master's Degree provided they attain their Undergraduate Degree before the Master's end). Admitted non-degree students (auditors) who complete the entire master program will receive a certificate of attendance in the "Food Culture and Communications: High-Quality Products" program from UNISG. This certificate is not an academic qualification and grants no university credits.

Section 8

Non-degree students (Auditors)

The Master Management may choose, at his own discretion, to open enrollment to the Master to a maximum of 5 students who, though lacking the necessary academic requirements to enroll as students, have a solid professional background in the food and wine sector (these students will be hereinafter referred to as non-degree students). Non-degree students (auditors) shall submit their dossier according to the deadlines and modalities set forth in section 4 of this announcement. Non-degree students are subject to all payment deadlines and all conditions as set forth in section 4 of this announcement. The selection and subsequent admission of non-degree applicants to the Master may not be appealed and is at the sole discretion of UNISG. Admitted students will be notified by UNISG that they have been admitted and shall pay the deposit of the university fees within 8 days of the date of the notification of admission; the notification may also contain any extension to the payment deadline. Non-degree students have no obligation to take tests or exams and will not receive the First Level Master Degree, pursuant to Ministry of Education Decree no. 270 of October 22, 2004; non-degree students who attend at least 80% of the program activities will receive a certificate of attendance from UNISG. This certificate is not an academic qualification and it grants no university credits.

Section 9

Information pursuant to Legislative Decree no. 196 of 2003

Pursuant to the laws in force regarding processing of personal data, UNISG hereby states that it will use applicants' and students' personal data only for internal and administration purposes and that personal data will be treated with respect to and within the laws in force. Non-sensitive personal information may be used on the websites managed by or related to UNISG and/or its sponsors and through other forms of publication.

Appendix Section. 1

The total duration of the Master is 12 months.

After careful consideration by the academic director of the Master, the duration of the program may be extended to a maximum of 18 months upon written request, if the student intends to extend his/her course of study in order to complete the thesis over a period of time longer than the 2 months provided.

The official request for the extension of the program up to a maximum of 6 months must be submitted to the Director of the Academic Master within 12 months following the start date of the Master, as defined by this notice.

Students who have been granted an extension of their program for a duration of between 2 to 6 months, which consequently would extend the duration of the Master up to a maximum of 18 months, will obtain their Master's degree upon completion of the Master, coinciding with the conclusion of the extension granted.

For students from outside Europe, the above-mentioned extension of the Master's duration is subject to the renewal of the residence permit for study purposes, in accordance with the legislation in force at the time of the student's application submission.
