Written Test

The Commission informs the candidates present that it established on 5/09/2023 (day before the test) no. 9 tracks kept in no. 3 closed envelopes containing no. 3 tracks each.

The Committee invites the candidate Marco Garbaccio to draw one of the 3 envelopes.

The candidate Marco Garbaccio draws envelope no. 1.

The President of the Commission, Prof. Nicola Perullo, opened the envelope and read to the candidates the three tracks drawn for the written test. They are:

- Food and art
- Food and health
- Food and interpersonal relationships.

Candidates proceed to perform the written test, lasting a maximum of 60 minutes. It is due by 4:05 pm.

At the end of the allotted time, the commission proceeds to collect the tests and invites the candidates to leave the classrooms, physical and virtual, and report on 7/09/2023 at 2:30 p.m. at the Rector's Office of the University of Turin (Via Verdi 8, Turin), to take the scientific and aptitude interview.

The committee meets electronically at 9 p.m. to read and evaluate the candidates' written tests.

Up to a maximum of 50 points are awarded to the written test, according to the evaluation criteria in the following table:

Procedure	Evaluation criteria	Maximum Score
The written test consists of developing a short critical text on a topic that will be drawn at the beginning of the test, among a shortlist of three topics established by the Doctoral Admissions Committee the day preceding the exam date. The exam can be taken in Italian or English.	The exam aims to ascertain the applicant's writing skills and their ability to synthesize and critically develop topics and problems relating to the general scope of the Ph.D. program.	50

The Commission, following the evaluation of the written tests, initialed by each candidate with the alphanumeric code received from the Doctoral Secretariat prior to the conduct of the test itself in order to ensure their anonymity in the evaluation, proceeds with the matching of the scores assigned to the written tests with the codes relating to the candidates, as shown in the table below.
