DR n. 387/22 – 17/06/2022

On 9/09/2022, at 8:30 am, the Doctoral admission Committee for the comparative evaluation met for the admission to the Ph.D. program in Ecogastronomy, Food Sciences and Cultures as per Rectoral Decree no. 387/22 – 17/06/2022

All the members of the committee, nominated by Rectoral Decree 394/22 of 22/07/2022, are present:

- Prof. Nicola Perullo, Director of the Ph.D. program Ecogastronomy, Food Sciences and Cultures, Scientific Disciplinary Sector M-FIL/04 – Aesthetics – University of Gastronomic Sciences
- Prof. Andrea Pieroni, member of the faculty council of the Ph.D. course in Ecogastronomy, Food Sciences and Cultures, scientific-disciplinary sector BIO / 03 - Environmental and applied botany - University of Gastronomic Sciences
- Prof. Simona Bo, member of the faculty council of the Ph.D. Course in Ecogastronomy, Food Sciences and Cultures, scientific-disciplinary sector MED / 49 - Applied Dietetic Technical Sciences - University of Turin.

The following scores are attributed to the written test and to the academic and aptitude interview, up to a maximum of 100 points:

Tests	Methods of carrying out	Evaluation criteria	Maximum score
• Written test	The written test consists of the elaboration of a brief critical text based on a track that will be drawn at the beginning of the test, among a shortlist of three tracks established by the Doctoral Admission Committee the day before the date of the test. The test can be written in English or Italian.	The written test aims to ascertain the candidates' writing, synthesis and critical processing skills on topics and issues inherent to the general scope of the Ph.D.	50
• Academic and aptitude Interview	The interview includes a discussion of the candidate's curriculum vitae, proposed research project and any publications presented. The interview also includes a reading comprehension test of a text in a language other than candidate's native language (English for native Italian-speaking candidates, Italian for candidates with a native language other than Italian)	The interview validates the general and specific preparation of the candidates, as well as the motivation to undertake the Doctorate and the subsequent professional research path.	50
