

Harvard University
Department of Romance Languages and Literatures spring semester 2026

18TH DE BOSIS COLLOQUIUM IN ITALIAN STUDIES

NICOLA PERULLO

(Università di scienze gastronomiche di Pollenzo)

presents his new book:

TASTE as EXPERIENCE

PHILOSOPHY AND AESTHETICS OF FOOD

The Colloquium is organized by Francesco Erspamer. It is a regularly scheduled Harvard course (Italian 201r) and a series of lectures sponsored by the Lauro De Bosis Lectureship in the History of Italian Civilization.
Program assistant:
Louise Rossetti.

Respondent: Federica Zanella

April 13, 5:10 pm
Boylson 403
IN ENGLISH

Nicola Perullo is an Italian philosopher and academic known for his many books on aesthetics, the philosophy of food, and ecological aesthetics. He is a professor at the University of Gastronomic Sciences, where he also serves as Rector. His book Epistemology: Wine as Experience presents his philosophy of wine based on participatory and relational knowledge.