4. MOST RELEVANT MANAGERIAL AND INSTITUTIONAL RESPONSABILITIES

4.1 UNIVERSITY OF GASTRONOMIC SCIENCES, POLLENZO, ITALY

First worldwide university (funded by Slow Food and the Region Piedmont in 2004, recognized and accredited by the Italian Government in 2005) entirely devoted to the interdisciplinary study of food and food systems, aimed at documenting the worldwide food biodiversity, creating a constant dialogue between Traditional Knowledge holders/local communities and the “scientific” arena, and implementing food sovereignty and sustainability.

2017-Current	Rector (equivalent to Vice-Chancellor)
2017	Vice-Rector for Research
2011-2017	Post-Graduate Program Director

4.2 JOURNAL OF ETHNOBIOLOGY AND ETHNOMEDICINE

International peer-reviewed scientific journal published by BMC/Springer Nature, funded in 2005 by Andrea Pieroni and others, entirely focusing on continuity and change of Traditional/ Local Knowledge systems, as well as their projections in the domains of environmental, food, and health policies; IF: 2.27; Q1 by SCIMAGO; recognized in 2020 by Springer Nature for its editorial excellence

2005-Current Editor-in-Chief

4.3 INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY OF ETHNOBIOLOGY

First worldwide forum (funded by Darrell Posey and others in 1988 at the 1st International Congress of Ethnobiology held in Belem, Brazil) bringing together ethnoscientists, local communities, Indigenous Peoples, and environmentalists. The Declaration of Belem recognized that native peoples have been stewards of most of the Earth's genetic resources and remain authorities on how their knowledge and resources should, or should not, be used; the declaration also set broad research ethical guidelines for ethnobiologists to ensure their work promotes the conservation of biological and cultural diversity, and the appropriate use of traditional knowledge.

2010 President

2006-2010 European Representative and Vice-President

4.4. RUBIA PROJECT

First ever research project funded by the European Commission focusing on cultural heritage related to plant knowledge and practices. It involved 8 research centres from the Netherland, Italy, Greece, Cyprus, Egypt, Algeria, and Morocco. The project aimed at documenting circum-Mediterranean traditional plant knowledge and practices and to propose concrete strategies for revitalizing this heritage.

2003-2006 Principal Investigator and Coordinator
